STERLING EXCHANGE FEATURE. New York, Aug. 8 .- A rise of more than 11 cents in sterling exchange was the outstanding feature of today's financial markets. The rate advanced to 2.71 1-2 as against Saturday's close of 5.50 1-8 a gain of about 16 cents over 2.50 1-8 a gain of about 16 cents over the low point of the last fortnight. In the stock market the movement was irregular, on light trading, and net changes were unimportant.

The unusual unturn in sterling was not associated with any specific developments, of the day. The recent arrivals of gold from abroad, although of understand influence on the course of undoubted influence on the course of the exchanges, hardly accounted for the sudden marking up of sterilug to in ex-tent which has no parallel for a long time past. Before the opening the cables brought news of an advance of 3 cents in London, and with the beginning of trading here the rise was carried forward rapidly, closing around the high-

Short covering was regarded as the chief factor in the movement. Recently there has been a falling off in efferings of commercial bills against exports of cotton, grain and foodstoffs, but the volume of these bills is expected soon to increase.

Speculative selling in anticipation of such an increase apparently was overextended, placing the market on such a strong technical basis that the shorts were caught in an exposed position. Other foreign exchange rates were strong in sympathy with sterling, ad-vancing from 5 to 50 points.

The strength of sterling affected, the stock market, after an early decline. Quotations eased off in the forencon, with oils, equipments, coppers, steels and rupbers leading in the recession. Sugars were especially sunceptible to pressure, owing perhaps to uncertainty as to the action to be taken this week on the American Sugar dividend.

Late in the day the market stiffened, ander the influence of sterling's austained buoyancy and buying of rails. Sales amounted to 280,000 shares. Notwithstanding the large increase in surplus reserves shown in last week's bank statement, there was no relaxation money rates. Call funds ruled at Reactionary tendencies were evident in most popular bonds but recessions in the main were slight. Total sales spar

Bullfights

Huge amphitheatres have been recently built in various towns in the south of France for the iniquitous builfights organized b. Spaniards. They have actually taken place in all their unmitigated cruelty at Lunel, Nunes, Bordeaux, Avignon, Aries and Beziers. It is hoped to in-troduce them at Toulouse, where a thea-tre is in course of construction, and at Marseilles. Monsieur Labroubil (6 Rue du Moulin, Caen, Calvados, France), is conducting an energetic campaign against these builfights, publishing leaflets and posters, and having them widely distributed. The following extract is translated from one of his Tracts Zoophiles Populaires. The description is given by an eye-witness:
